

Dolly 1.0

Charlotte's head was always in the cloud tinkering. Toggling coding downloading. She was Mama's Little Genius. Yes, I think I broke it easy. Fix mom. Just press this. This and this and daddy's little smartypants. How do you work? This goofy thing, easy? Dad? Just press that that and that Charlotte's world was fully charged. One day Mama had a present for Charlotte. Is it a dog bark decoder device? So I can know what Bluetooth is saying? No, even better surprise. Hmm. How do you use it? Are there instructions? I was thinking you can play house or doctor with it. No, thank you. Just give it. Try. I'm sure you'll figure something out. Charlotte, drag the human-shaped, pillow to her room. She tried sharing her spare parts collection. Don't you want to build something? She tried playing superheroes Space, Princess help. The moon dragon is destroying our ship. She even tried a dance party. but the doll just Well, what do you want to play then? Who me? I'm not your mama. How can I be your mama? I'm just a kid. Then Charlotte thought of something. If dog talk, then it must have, uh, Power supply. Now, things were getting interesting. Got any other words in your database, dolly. Just one word, huh? I know I could run an update on you. You could say more words. Would you like that? I'll take that as a yes. This updates going to be awesome, Dolly. You'll be saying hello and goodbye and let's play and happy birthday. And yes and Bad boy, Bluetooth. Charlotte couldn't let it end this way. She knew what she had to do. Hello, my name is Dolly 1.0 with a few spare parts, and a bit of code. Charlotte change the doll. With two Bright Eyes and a cute little battery pack. Dolly want to take Bluetooth for a walk with Mama. The doll change, Charlotte too, but not too much Mama.